

Just Left of Reality Guy

By SKJAM! (original post)

At first glance, this average-looking fellow just appears to be a little clumsy. He walks into doorframes, knocks over water glasses, and signs forms just to the left of the dotted line.

But if you talk to him for a while, you realize that his version of events doesn't quite match up with anyone else's. The colors are subtly different, numbers off by one or two, and sometimes names are spelled in an unusual way.

Is he just suffering from some sort of perception defect, or is he seeing another reality, just left of the one we know?
