

Cosian's Starlight

This spell, a variation of the Create Light spell, illuminates an area as brightly as a cloudless outdoor night sky filled with stars. The light thus created is pale and wan, and dilutes vision mostly to black and white. Full visual acuity is possible only out to a range of 10 yards, but general identification can be made out to 20 yards. Stationary figures can be made out at 40 yards, and movement detected out to 80 yards. Intervening cover will, of course, reduce sighting distances accordingly and there are ample shadows within the area of effect to hide in.
